Trace growth in city services and structures

By GARY SCHNEIDER of the Press-Record

With minds recalling day-long dedication ceremonies 50 years ago, "old timers" of Granite City rededicated the city hall and public library buildings during a 47 minute program on the city hall steps Saturday afternoon.

"I'm proud to be an old timer in the city of Granite City," Attorney Randall Robertson, rededication speaker, said as he reflected on the early history of the city and its subsequent growth.

"Granite City was unique in its origin. The dreams and foresight of the Niedringhaus family and those who planned the city have been carried out. It once had wooden sidewalks, mud streets and two taverns, the Bloody Bucket and the Grizzly Bear," Robertson said.

The city was laid out in 1883 as one of the first cities in the world planned for industrial development. He added, noting that the Niedringhaus family provided planned spaces for schools and the Lutheran hospital (now St. Elizabeth Medical Center), built 100 brick homes for prospective employees of the steel mill, and planned for other future developments.

He recalled the days when the old city hall was in the fire station on 18th Street and the jail was in the basement of the police station, with only a trap door to get in and out.

He said the elaborate structures of the city hall and the library were planned to set them apart from the other buildings in the city and to make them "symbols."

"These are the symbols of two great dreams. The city hall is the symbol of government and the library building is the symbol of knowledge," Robertson said, saying that knowledge and government go hand in hand and neither can exist without the other.

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler reviewed more of the city's history, noting that William F. and Frederick G. Niedringhaus "laid the groundwork for the industrial base upon which the city came to thrive."

"Before the incorporation of the city in 1896, Granite City Steel Mill, American Steel Foundry and Markle Lead Works were in full production. In 1900, the inhabitants totaled 3,100. Early land priorities were given for religious, educational and community activities.

"After the 1903 flood, which was a time of prosperity and major growth for Granite City, churches were constructed. The then Lutheran Hospital was constructed, and new manufacturing plants developed along with the Tri-City Trades Council. Three new schools, which included a high school, were constructed.

"After the 1903 flood, which covered a major portion of the area, the people of the American Bottoms voted to create the East Side Levee and Sanitary District for the construction of a huge levee and diversion canal, enclosing a

Arrest GC man for fatal shooting

Madison County sheriff's deputies plan to apply today for felony warrants against a Granite City man in connection with the fatal shooting early Friday of Jerry Stockman, 35, of Rural Route Three, Box 80, Edwardsville, a former Granite City resident, in the parking lot of Elsie's Tavern (the former Roundhouse) on Old Route 66 (extension of East Chain of Rocks Road) just west of Route 157 and north of Interstate 270.

At 2:19 a.m. Friday, off-duty Edwardsville officer Richard Ray found Mr. Stockman slumped over the steering wheel of a car on the parking lot. There was a bullet wound from a large caliber weapon to his left chest.

There were no signs of life. The engine of the car was running and the windows were rolled up.

Efforts by Edwardsville firemen to revive him were unsuccessful. Madison County Deputy Coroner Cleve Mateer pronounced him dead at the scene at 3:05 a.m. Friday.

Patrons of the tavern were questioned, but none recalled Mr. Stockman being inside the tavern during the night. One witness said he may have been there during the afternoon Thursday.

At 11:05 a.m. Friday, deputies and Granite City policemen arrested a man at Carlson and Jill avenues in connection with the shooting. The weapon has not been found and deputies have not discussed any motive in the shooting.

Mr. Stockman was born in Dora, Ala., and resided in Granite City for many

More electric power could be produced by area industries

There is a significant unrealized potential for "cogeneration" of electricity in this metropolitan region, according to findings just released by the Center for Urban and Environmental Research and Services of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Cogeneration is a term used to designate operations generating useful thermal energy and electricity from the same source.

Since the efficiency of cogeneration is typically twice the efficiency of generating electricity by conventional means, energy is conserved, Noral D. Wallace, a researcher involved in the study, says.

For the study, data were obtained from the 17 largest energy users in the St. Louis Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area (SMSA) in order to evaluate their cogeneration potential and their current level of cogeneration activity.

The companies account for over 70 percent of the total industrial energy consumption in the St. Louis SMSA.

The researchers found that, although there is undoubtedly some cogeneration potential among companies in the area not covered by the study, the surveyed companies are the most likely candidates for cogeneration and account for the significant cogeneration potential.

The types of industries and businesses used in the survey included those concerned with primary metals, chemicals, glass, petroleum refining, cement, and food processing.

All of the companies in the survey which are currently cogenerating have been doing so for a number of years. For the most part, these companies began cogenerating for reliability rather than economic reasons.

As electricity service has become more reliable and less expensive, Wallace said, the amount of cogeneration by the companies has gradually and consistently been reduced.

The researcher said that while reliability still plays a role in the cogeneration decision, the primary considerations today are economics, fuel availability, and environmental impact.

Even without incentives, Wallace said, a sizeable portion of the thermodynamic potential is estimated to be economically viable both on a short-term and long-term basis, but particularly in the long run.

Realizing this potential would save significant amounts of energy and also have a favorable impact on the overall air quality of the St. Louis SMSA, he is convinced.

The SIUE researcher recommended several actions that would "improve the probability of realizing the economic potential for cogeneration."

Targeting of local auto traffic continuing

Thanks to such factors as the 55 miles per hour speed limit and intensified traffic law enforcement, authorities report progress in curbing highway deaths and injuries in the Quad-Cities and surrounding area.

Illinois State Police said today they are continuing an innovative Concentrated Traffic Enforcement Program.

The goal of this program is to reduce the number and severity of traffic accidents at high-risk locations through enforcement action and police visibility during the days and at the times when past experience indicates most accident hazards exist.

Captain Albert J. Bertagnoli, commander of District 11 at Maryville, said the target areas in this district are I-270 between Ill. 3 and Ill. 203; Ill. 3 and Ill. 203 north of Granite City; I-55 between Ill. 111 and Ill. 157; 111 and 157 north of I-55 to Ill. 162.

Also, U.S. 67 from Alton to Ill. 267; Ill. 267 from U.S. 67 to the Greene County line.

St. Clair County, Ill. 15 between Ill. 163 and Ill. 158; Ill. 158 between Ill. 15 and Ill. 163; Ill. 163 between Ill. 15 and Ill. 158.

Clinton County, U.S. 50 between Ill. 160 and County Highway 3.

Bertagnoli said emphasis is placed on enforcing moving hazardous violations — occurring in these identified areas — which have been determined to be factors that cause accidents.

"The result of the deployment of personnel during specific times at the aforementioned locations should cause the motorist to believe that traffic officers are everywhere, and that if he violates the law he will be caught, the commander said.

During October, state troopers on Concentrated Traffic Enforcement Program patrols issued 374 citations and 361 written warnings, a total of 735 violator contacts.

In addition, CTEP troopers assisted eight disabled auto motorists, recovered a stolen vehicle, and made two criminal arrests.

Steel slab record set

Granite City Steel's Blooming Mill Department has broken a production record that is over three years old. The mill, which rolls steel ingots into slab form, produced 166,389 tons of steel slabs during October, beating the old record of 166,054 tons rolled in May 1976.

President James V. Stack of the GC Steel Division of National Steel Corp.,

said, "It takes consistently steady performance to set a month-long record, such as the Blooming Mill has done. Cooperation by all the people in the department must be good throughout the period in order to reach the level of production just achieved."

"I congratulate all of the production and maintenance employees who contributed to this new record."

Leo H. Konzen, a Granite City attorney who is chairman of the board, was re-elected as chairman.

Sister Mary Thomas, C.D.P., president of the medical center, was re-elected vice chairman of the board and Mitchell B. Milonski, retired works manager of the American Steel Foundries, was re-elected treasurer of the board.

Propose 7% raises

A seven percent raise in yearly pay of the Madison County circuit clerk, coroner, auditor and recorder of deeds was recommended Thursday by the Finance Committee of the Madison County Board.

The four positions named are to be on the 1980 ballot for determination of new four-year terms.

Also recommended by the committee for seven percent salary hikes are the county board chairman and the members of that board who are elected in 1980.

"I'd like people to know what the salaries are going to be before they take out filing petitions," Committee Member Donald McLean said in offering most of the pay proposals.

The auditor, recorder and circuit clerk, now paid $24,000 a year, are to receive $25,680, $27,480, $29,405 and $31,465 over the next four years.

County coroner pay is to rise from the present $22,000 to $23,540, $25,185, $26,950 and $28,835.

The salary of the county board chairman is to rise from the current $20,000 to $21,400 in the 1980-81 fiscal year and $22,900 in 1981-82.

The 14 board members elected next year are to be paid $5,885 in fiscal 1981 and $6,295 in 1982; they now are paid $40 for each meeting they attend. The other half of the board, elected in 1978, receives $5,900 a year each.

Constituents and friends of Everett G. Steele, 56th District state representative, will present a two-hour patriotic program in the Meridian Ballroom of SIUE tomorrow evening, as a "Salute to Steele."

Program chairman Walt Schlemer has announced that such nationally prominent persons as Mrs. Phyllis Schlafly of Alton and Lieutenant Governor David O'Neal of Belleville will be appearing on the program along with Dwight Friedrich, state representative from the 53th District.

Abraham Lincoln impersonator Harry Hahn will make an appearance along with a slide presentation, "A day with Everett Steele," giving an opportunity to learn first-hand about a typical legislative day in Springfield.

Musical units, refreshments and other entertainment also are planned.

Tickets are available by calling Eleanor Schulz, ticket chairman, at 656-2731.

City growth

"By 1910, the population had grown to 11,053. Street cars were now traveling between Granite City and St. Louis over the new McKinley Bridge. A boom in Granite City real estate began.

"A new post office and public library were acquired in 1912 by the hard work of Mayor M.E. Kirkpatrick. Public improvements such as street sewers began. The site for the present city hall was purchased in 1916.

"When World War I broke out, Granite City answered with men, material and money. The area Boy Scouts made Granite City known for their Liberty Loan drives, which ended up exceeding $1,152,750. After the war, Granite City weathered the slowdown in manufacturing with construction and expansion of various manufacturers.

"The Granite City Park District was created in 1921 with creation of the board and the purchase of 52 acres, part of which is now Wilson Park," Mayor Schuler told the outdoor gathering.

"The '20s brought to Granite City a socio-economic unevenness, due to industrial problems and weather-related problems. However, the city followed in the nation's footsteps and prosperity again thrived, bringing forth new buildings, those being the city hall, the public library and a high school annex. These buildings were built during the administration of Mayor Kirkpatrick.

"The total cost of the city hall and library was $110,000. In the '30s, the city had many hardships similar to those throughout the nation which had to be faced, and were. The latter part of the '30s brought industry back to old-time vigor, with new patents and machinery being introduced.

"The '40s followed in stride. Kirkpatrick/Homes was constructed. An addition was built at the high school. The Nameoki area was annexed and sewer lines were established under the administration of Mayor Leonard Davis. Industry continued to thrive and the transportation network grew with the widening of Nameoki Road in the '60s.

"The '70s brought another trend of uneven industrial growth. The Union Starch plant and the Commonwealth plant closed their production lines in the early '70s. Since that time, several manufacturers have initiated production activities which counter-balance the unemployment of the area.

"These industries are Michigan Metals Corp., Feralloy and R&R Leasing. Along with this industrial addition, the Tri-City Regional Port has enlarged its industrial base with the addition of Triple T Corp. and the Foreign Trade Zone.

"The city has also annexed recently approximately 400 acres to the north which is an industrial site. The transportation system has been enlarged with the construction and completion of Maryville Road, of Highway 3 and the future construction of the 19th Street.

"The city has, under the present administration, completed construction on two public buildings, those being the new Nameoki Firehouse and the Police Building, which houses new police and Civil Defense facilities.

"The growth of the city and local industry through the past 90 years is perhaps described by an article in the Dec. 15, 1898, issue of the Venice weekly newspaper, the Mississippi Valley Blade.

"It said, 'To read of ancient city buildings is of the greatest interest to students of historical research. But to live, see and enjoy the raising of a mighty city and be part and parcel of the mighty strides—accomplished in the face of panic and financial depression—would inspire the admiration of the greatest sightseer and the most persistent itinerant, if men were not accustomed to beholding wonders daily.'

The mayor continued reading, "The establishments at Granite City are all permanent and invite the inspection of the home builder, the home seeker and investor."

Mayor Schuler concluded, "These words will carry on throughout the years as they pertain to the city of Granite City and its prosperity."

Mrs. Joan Yetter, president of the library board, said she felt the members of the library board of 1929 would be very proud of how their goals have been accomplished over the years. She described acquisitions and growth of the library and its programs.

Gene H. Sternberg was master-of-ceremonies for the rededication ceremonies and introduced guests in the audience, including State Representatives Everett Steele and Jim McPike.

The Rev. Paul Bower of Briarcliff Pentecostal Church gave the invocation and the Rev. Dr. Kenneth A. Netz of St. John United Church of Christ delivered the benediction. Miss Dottie Robins, a student at Granite City High School South, sang the National Anthem.

Tours of the city hall and the library building followed the rededication ceremonies. About 60 persons participated in the ceremony and tours.

These actions include: clarifying policies on natural gas projects for industrial cogenerators; expanding cogenerators from regulation as utilities, providing a definitive list of best available control technology for industrial cogeneration facilities.

Also, establishing emissions credits for cogeneration facilities using expanded definitions of emissions tradeoffs, and encouraging utility involvement in cogeneration.

Wallace feels strongly that the potential of cogeneration will never be realized without utility involvement.

"This feeling is not based on any hard analysis, but is a subjective judgment based on plant visits, background reading, attendance at workshops and conferences, and discussions with many people during the study," he concluded.

The Center of Urban and Environmental Research and Services will sponsor a one-day conference on "Industrial Cogeneration of Electricity: A Discussion of the Issues" on Nov. 20.

The conference is scheduled in the Mississippi-Illinois Rooms of the SIUE University Center from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. Registration is $15 and includes the cost of the luncheon. Advance registration is to be in by Nov. 13.

Speakers will include representatives from local industrial firms, utilities, and cogeneration equipment manufacturers; state conservation agencies; and an energy expert from the U.S. Department of Energy.

Danube is not blue, Granite Cityans find

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Seymour of Granite City and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Helwig of Fairview Heights have returned from a cruise up the Danube River.

The Seymours report: "The Blue Danube was as muddy as the Mississippi. After a two-week cruise on the Russian ship DNEPR, we are glad to be home counting our blessings.

"We not only appreciate our high standard of living, but our freedom and civil liberties. We flew into Istanbul, Turkey, where the military was very much present since the city was under marshal law.

"We saw palaces of sultans such as 'Tpkapi, where one sultan kept the younger members of his harem. His jewels are still on display, as are lavish gifts presented to the sultan, himself, including Chinese and Japanese porcelains of museum quality and one jeweled dagger encrusted with emeralds.

"Other things of importance were the churches converted to mosques and restored as museums, including priceless mosaics of the Christian era saved by a Moslem architect who loved art and merely covered them with plaster when told to destroy them.

"Part of Istanbul lies in Asia across the Bosphorus. We drove across the bridge into Asia, turned around and drove back.

"Our cruise took us from Istanbul on a Russian ship, Ajwasowskij, across the Black Sea to Ismail, Russia. We were not permitted to leave the ship except to pass on foot along the mooring barge to our ship.

"DNEPR was a Russian ship with a Russian crew which spoke no English. We got along very well using an interpreter, gestures and smiles.

"This ship took us up the Danube to Vienna, Austria. We stopped in the ports of several countries behind the Iron Curtain.

"Life behind the Iron Curtain is as unpleasant as we had heard," the Seymours related.

"Our first city, Bucharest was 40 miles from port, an hour and one half from the Danube by bus. Along the way, we saw cooperative farms and women peasants working the corn harvesting. We saw many wagons of gypsies.

"Our guide took us to Muzel Satule, the Village Museum, where models of 300 authentic peasant houses and buildings from all over Romania are displayed.

"Commercial shops in Bucharest are owned and operated by the state. The only privately owned business was a farmer's market area.

"Belgrade, the capital of Yugoslavia, was the next port of call. There were ruins of the great fortress of Belgrade. The walls of the fortress were more than 30 meters thick.

"Belgrade no longer shows damages of World War II. Despite wars on an average of every 20 to 25 years, the city was in excellent condition. It features modern hotels, a great convention center, and block after block of apartment buildings.

"We saw the street where Tito lives. Henry Kissinger had been in Belgrade that morning.

"Budapest, which is made up of the cities of Buda on the west bank of the Danube and Pest on the east bank, was our next stop.

"Our guide took us to Heroes Square to see the Arch of Triumph and statues of fierce tribal Hungarian warriors and of Stephen I, Hungary's patron saint and the man who completed the Christianization of the Magyars.

"She also took us to the grave of the unknown Russian soldier in Freedom Square.

"The second in command to Soviet's President Brezhnev arrived while we were there.

"We viewed the ceremony of laying a wreath at the grave of the unknown soldier. That evening, we dined on Hungarian goulash in a restaurant with gypsy musicians and entertainment.

"Our last port of call behind the Iron Curtain was Bratislava, Czechoslovakia. This city was incredibly depressing. We could feel that the people were not free and that our guide was nervous.

"Our final port of call was Vienna. It was great to be away from the Iron Curtain and feel that we were not under surveillance. Vienna is a city of magnificent architecture and emerald gardens, with historic sights.

"The Hapsburg emperor's summer palace, Schonbrunn, of which only 40 of the 1,441 rooms, are open to the public, displays unbelievable wealth.

"There are many memorials to great musical composers such as Strauss and Mozart. We are pleased to have made the trip, but consider this to be a one-time-only tour."

Beaten by intruder

Gwendolyn Baker, 25, of 1011 Market St., Venice, told police she returned home Thursday and found two men and a woman in her home. She knew all three, but one man grabbed her and pushed her, she said. When she tried to call the police, the man grabbed the telephone from her and then threw a kitchen chair at her, cutting her forehead.

The three then fled. She went to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where she was received four sutures to close the cut and she was released.

adopted December 1979-November 1980 budget.

McLean said he favors $5,500 for all the board members, but will vote for seven percent increases if the only other alternative is a return to per diem pay.

He said there have been abuses under both the salary and per diem pay methods.

The finance committee will meet again Thursday to confer with representatives of several county departments on the 1979-80 budget. All departments were asked by the committee to cut their budgets by one percent to avoid a $125,000 imbalance in next year's revenue and spending projections.

County Auditor John Kravack told the committee that budget problems for the year ending Nov. 30 are developing for the sheriff department, circuit clerk office and shelter care home.

SOON THE QUAD-CITY AREA WILL HAVE

Two Earl's Sports Stores
IN WHICH TO Buy Athletic Sports Needs

Having a specialty sports store in the new shopping area has been a prime effort on our part for some time. Earl's will be centrally located between Nameoki Shopping Center and Crossroads, just across the parking lot from K-Mart. Our new neighbor at the end of the building is Happy Joe's Pizza Parlor.

Having two locations gives Earl's greater advantages in freight cost savings as well as increased sales resulting in even better price savings to the consumer. Good news in times of inflation.

We have trained young people anxious to offer the knowledgeable service Earl's is noted for.

National College Fair

The 1979 National College Fair will be held on Friday, Nov. 9, from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. and 6 p.m. until 9 p.m. in the Cervantes Convention and Exhibition Center, 801 Delmar Blvd., St. Louis. Counselors from the area high schools are encouraging both students and parents to attend the fair and talk to the many college representatives there.

The fair is a place to gather much basic information about colleges and the programs they offer, even if the student is not planning immediate enrollment, according to Anita McKinney, the Granite City High School South guidance department.

Information also will be available at the fair on various financial aid programs offered. A brief 8-to-10 minute orientation will acquaint National College Fair visitors with the many services available.

Persons attending will receive a free fair directory as they enter to guide them through the event.

There is no charge for the fair.

Recognition for college

Belleville Area College has been granted full recognition by the Illinois Community College Board for the 1979-80 fiscal year.

The granting of "recognition" by the ICCB occurs after the college is determined to be in compliance with state statutes and ICCB policies.

That compliance determination and the monitoring of claims for state funds by the public community College Board.

Claims for state funds are monitored (audited) by a team of ICCB staff members whose expertise and responsibility is in auditing purposes at least once every three years.

Frequently, recognition visits by the ICCB coincide with accreditation visits conducted by the North Central Association of Colleges and Universities. A college may be granted the status of full recognition, conditional recognition, probationary recognition, or non-recognition. In order to receive state funds through the ICCB, a college must be granted full recognition.

2 nurses to attend enucleator course

Carol Lyn Marcum, 3908 Gaslight Walk, and Gail Lynn Osterbur, 205 Circle Ave., both registered nurses at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, have been selected to take the Lions of Illinois Foundation's Eye Steril Enucleation Course to be given by the University of Illinois Department of Ophthalmology in Chicago.

The announcement was made by Illinois Lions Zone Chairman Donald D. Patrick in conjunction with plans by Quad-City area Lions clubs of Granite City, Madison and Pontoon Beach and St. Elizabeth Medical Center in designating the medical center an official Lions of Illinois Eye Donor Center.

Granite City Lions Club President Jack Hill, Madison Lions Club President John Belcoff and Pontoon Beach Lions Club President Dr. George Goodwin announced earlier this year that the three clubs would send four local candidates to take the course and divide the cost of approximately $1,200.

The agreement also provided that St. Elizabeth Medical Center would approve and help select the candidates.

Two candidates, Randall Irwin, a mortician of 2801 Madison Ave. and Joy Renee Barr, 18 Moorland Drive, took the course in July and are now qualified to enucleate, or remove, eyes from deceased persons who have signed Lions eye donor pledges during their lifetime.

Eyes that are enucleated are used for corneal transplants to help other people see, or are used for medical research. Eyes have to be removed very soon after death to preserve the tissue.

Area Lions members plan to have four certified technicians, three nurses and a mortician, available, to assure immediate response upon a donor's death. Under the Lions Eye Donor Registry Program, Lions obtain pledge cards from people who want to donate their eyes for transplants or research upon their death. The Lions also are involved in transporting the needed eye tissue to eye banks as the tissue becomes available.

The Lions members have been involved in help to the blind and in support for eye research since 1926 when Helen Keller addressed their International Convention in Dallas, Tex., and challenged the world-wide organization to become "Knights of the Blind."

The delegates accepted her challenge unanimously and have been world leaders in the area of assisting the blind and eye research along with their work for the deaf and hearing impaired.

The Illinois Lions Donor Registry Program, one of the many Lions projects for the blind and deaf, is supported by funds generated by Candy Days, the statewide fund-raiser scheduled annually in October.

The three Lions clubs presidents announced that the local clubs will hold an annual Quad-City eye donor pledge drive in November, beginning this year on the weekend of the 16, 17 and 18.

Local Lions will be stationed in local stores, banks and key locations to register new eye donors for the Eye Donor Registry Program. Lions who have been assisting the three Quad-City Lions Clubs, St. Elizabeth Medical Center in bringing the program to the Quad-Cities include Jim Miller Jr. and Roger Frank of the Granite City Lions Club, Bill Gushleff and Richard Bright of the Madison Lions Club, and Jerry Morgan and Zeph Chairman Patrick of the Pontoon Beach Lions Club.

Child discipline discussed

Disciplining children, according to the teachings in the Bible, was the topic of a recent meeting of the Ladies in Action group of the Briarcliff Pentecostal Church.

The program was presented by Judy Vanwinkle of Alton.

The group decided it will hold its annual Christmas dinner on Monday, Dec. 17.

Plans for making peanut brittle were discussed. A white elephant sale is also planned.

Refreshments were served by Marge Glasgow and Lillian Barton.

Attending the meeting were: Dorothy Lakin, Chris Stentzer, Lonnie Davis, David Beaver, Vangie Bower, Omie Farless, Jean Francis and Bertha Dix. The next meeting will be Monday, Nov. 26, at the church, beginning at 7 p.m.

Tavern owners re-elect Hester

The Madison County Tavern Owners Association elected officers at its October meeting, held at Charlie's Restaurant.

Charles Hester, owner and operator of the host facility, was re-elected president.

Also named to lead the association in 1980 were: Bill Woodrome, executive vice-president; Minnie Brown, treasurer; and Vera Whyers, secretary.

Hester informed the group of his plans to continue efforts to work for the reduction of high insurance rates now required of tavern operators.

At a later meeting of association officers, it was proposed to establish a scholarship fund for a deserving area student, in addition to continuing support of the Sky Ranch for Boys in South Dakota.

Several ideas were presented for fund-raising events for the coming year. In addition to the largest fund raiser, the May dinner-dance, it was suggested that dues be increased to $50 per year, a pig and lamb roast be given and a monthly contest be initiated.

Various proposed projects will be recommended to association members at the group's next meeting, set Tuesday, Nov. 13, at Spanky's, 224 M. Main St., Edwardsville.

HALLOWEEN PULCHRITUDE and unique costumes were displayed by the students of the Granite City School of Beauty Culture as they visited downtown businesses Halloween afternoon. Teachers accompanying the students included Julie Marzsluf, dressed as an old man at the upper left, and Loretta Brown, dressed as a witch.

Seek man in beating case

Granite City police are searching for a 35-year-old man who allegedly beat Kathy Broyles, 2429 Bryan Ave., in front of her children ages 9, 6 and newborn, and with a friend when a man drove his car beside her and forced her car off the road into the parking lot of Yates Mobil at Nameoki and Pontoon Roads.

The man then got out of his car, struck her several times, until she broke free with the help of one of her sons and ran into the street where a woman stopped her car to help and she and her two sons got into the woman's car, leaving the friend and the baby behind.

The woman, who declined to identify herself, took Mrs. Broyles and her children to the Granite City police building and then left. Mrs. Broyles reported the incident to police who then returned Mrs. Broyles to the service station lot to meet her friend and the baby.

The friend reported that the man raised the hood of Mrs. Broyles' auto and tore the spark plug wires and coil loose and damaged the hoses to the carburetor.

Mrs. Broyles was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where she was admitted for a broken nose and head injuries.

Eastern Orthodox Church bazaar

The Ladies Sodality of the Nativity of the Virgin Mary Eastern Orthodox Church will sponsor a pre-holiday bazaar Friday and Saturday. The event will take place from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. on both days in the basement of the rectory, located adjacent to the church at 416 Ewing Ave., Madison.

Plans for the bazaar were completed at a meeting last week, according to Ann Butchko, president.

In preparation of the event, sodality members have participated craft workshops each Monday for some months, she pointed out.

Members of the organizing committee with Mrs. Butchko are Mrs. Mary Fryntzko and Mrs. Sophia Green, chairman.

The public is invited to attend and visit the booths, featuring a country kitchen, Christmas decorations, handmade articles for gifts and one displaying "white elephant" and grab bag items.

Of special interest will be an area offering patrons ethnic food dishes, including soups, entrees and desserts.

GC HS South blood drive

A goal of 130 pints of blood has been set by the Granite City High School South Student Council which again is sponsoring a blood drive in cooperation with the American Red Cross.

The drive is scheduled for Wednesday, Nov. 21, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the main gym.

Last year students at South donated 128 pints. In order for a student to give blood the student must be 17 years of age and weigh at least 110 pounds.

Phil Beljanski is chairman of the drive this year and is urging everyone eligible to donate blood.

Blood donors do not necessarily have to be students at South. Parents, teachers and neighbors may donate. Persons who have had hepatitis, malaria, epilepsy or who have kidney disease, a history of heart disease or cancer may not donate.

The South Student council is calling this year's drive a "Blood Blast."

Music skills demonstrated

A fifth-grade class at Frohardt School demonstrated music reading skills for their parents during open-house visitation. Under the direction of their general music teacher, Miss Patricia Dineff, the class used skills to clap rhythm, showing the ability to create correct rhythmic patterns from the printed page.

The children, all from Mrs. Rongey's homeroom, added word phrases to match the rhythmic notation. The final step of the process was to add the melody to complete the song.

The second portion of the demonstration reflected solfège skills. After the demonstration, the children sang songs for the parents' enjoyment.

Those participating were Matthew Russell, Julie Boker, William Stegall, Larry Schellhardt, Jeffrey Motes, Lori Wise, Kelly McMillan, Diane Schill, Michael Consiglio, Becky Palovich, Gary Hagopian, Kimberly Asbeck, Holly McQuaide, Ellen Moss, John Hagen, David Mouldon, Becky Bonvicino, Sherri Anglin, and Karen Hammond.

The group, composed of SIUE faculty members, plays traditional Dixieland and ragtime rhythms. Tunes will include "A Good Man Is Hard to Find" and "Wolverine Blues."

State finals next stop for South

By KEVIN ALLEN
of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — Granite City South soccer fans had waited impatiently for 80 minutes — and a season before that — for the moment.

When the buzzer sounded at Granite City North field announcing the end of South's 3-0 win over Alton Saturday, the time had arrived. They streamed onto the field, laughing, shouting, cheering. Basking in the joy of the moment.

After a time, the celebration quieted briefly, but when Jack Burnette accepted the trophy symbolic of the championship of the Granite City North Sectional tournament, the enthusiasm peaked again. The next stop would be the state finals and a chance for south to once again defend the state championship it has won the past three seasons.

Warrior coach Gene Baker stood alongside Burnette at the trophy awarding ceremony. He held a small piece of gold metal when he stepped outside the crowd. "The arm fell off the trophy," he explained. But his smile remained constant. Shutters on cameras from all around the perimeter of the crowd clicked freezing the moment for posterity. It was official now. The wait was over. The Warriors would once again make the trip to the state tournament. Now a new vigil began. This celebration wasn't spontaneous. Win, lose, or whatever against Alton, South was assured by its performance earlier in the tournament against Collinsville and Quincy of a place among the best in the state.

Those spectators on hand ignorant of the Warriors' recent history were given no reason to believe South was doing anything other than it was capable of doing. Those spectators on hand who had watched the Warriors from their opening game were given no reason to doubt the sincerity of the effort.

South did to Alton what they had done to many this (Continued on Page 11)

State final tickets

GRANITE CITY — Tickets for the Illinois State Soccer Tournament will be sold at the gate only. There will be no advance ticket sales at Granite City High School South for its team's game Friday night at 7:30 against Wheaton Central, according to Principal James Dumont.

Tickets for each session of the tournament are priced at $2 each (adults as well as students). Each session, except the championship game, will involve two games. A "permanent" pass, good for all sessions, is priced at $5.

Plans are being made for a student fan bus Friday for the team's game. South students interested may sign up at school. The price for the bus is $16.50 per student. Any student who rides the bus up to the game must return on the bus, according to Dumont. The fan bus will return to Granite City immediately after the conclusion of the game. Because of the time involved in traveling, the distance between Granite City and Chicago, there will be no fan bus Saturday.

This marks the fifth straight year South has been involved in the state finals. The Warriors have won the state championship the past three years.

THE TALL AND SHORT OF IT. South to face old foe

GRANITE CITY — When Granite City South's soccer team tangles with its quarterfinal opponent Friday in the IHSA State Finals, it won't be the first time the two have met.

The foe will be Wheaton Central (20-3-1) and its Tigers will have a revenge motive on their minds, and least their coach, Al Duhm (pronounced "Doom") will. You see, South is the team that defeated Wheaton Central 4-0 in 1976 for the state championship and again in the 1977 semifinals 2-1.

Wheaton Central has made one other state finals appearance. In 1974, the Tigers lost to New Trier West 1-0 in four overtimes in the title match.

Cougars win Bronze Boot

Special to

of the Press-Record

ST. LOUIS — Late today, Monday, Nov. 5, the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville soccer team will play Southern Methodist University at Cougar Field and the Midwest Regional No. 1 ranking will go to the winner. Kickoff time: 4:30 p.m., and you fans who are worried about it being dark at that time, forget it. Cougar Field is now well-lit. But the big news happened Friday night at St. Louis' Busch Stadium.

Coach Bob Guelker's SIUE kickers had kept their undefeated streak alive at 14 with a thrill-packed 2-0 victory over St. Louis University Friday night at Busch Memorial Stadium before 10,000 fans in a bruising battle for possession of the coveted "Bronze Boot."

The series between the Bills and Cougars is now even at 4-4, and Coach Harry Keough's eleven margin overall in the bitterly contested series fell to 10-1. Ranked 12th before their game with the Cougars, the Bills dropped out of an automatic choice for one of two berths in the NCAA's Division I regional tournament and a chance to advance to the national tournament at Tampa. However, the Bills' hopes for one of three at-large bids are still alive. The bids will be announced Nov. 12.

The winner of the SIUE and SMU battle tonight will become the host school in the Midwest regional and therefore will have the important advantage of their own home field. Incidentally, Southern Methodist has been ranked No. 3 in the nation for the past four weeks. Last week, SIUE was No. 8. SIUE and SMU have met only once before: last year at Dallas, the Cougars mauled the Mustangs 4-1. Both teams have almost the same personnel back, so it could be a real "donkeybrook."

In their victory over St. Louis U. Friday night, the Cougars struck with chilling suddenness at 9:13 into the game.

The Cougars' right winger, Matt Malloy, took a pass from Don Ebert and pushed the ball past a completely out-of-position Bills keeper, Tim Tietjen. The assist for Ebert gave him a tie with John Carezza for a season high in point total at 27. With at least two more games to play, Ebert should break the record. The Rosary High forward, shadowed all night by the Bills' Bill McKean, was held to two shots, both in the second half. Tim Guelker, who has been coming on like Gang Busters in the Cougars' last six games, gave SIUE a little breathing space as he booted in a pass from Pat Malloy shortly at 54:19 after the second half began. It was his third goal (with four assists) of the season.

A third SIUE goal, at 68:54 by Matt Malloy, again on a pass from the closely guarded Ebert, was nullified when one of the officials ruled that Ebert was offside.

With 2:35 left in the game, the Bills got another break. Dave Hummert, shadowing a Billiken forward, chased him towards the corner and away from the goal mouth. Suddenly, it appeared that Hummert had tripped on the Billiken's heels and fell on his back.

No GC harriers to state finals

ALTON — When Granite City South's cross-country team qualified for the Alton sectional meet it knew the competition would be stiff. That, however, was an under-estimate of the talent on hand at Alton, Saturday morning.

Not only did the cream of the Southern Illinois runners attend the meet, one of them Jim Files of Springfield Lamphier, set a new record on the hilly Alton course. The result was that Dave Houston, South's most serious contender for a trip to the state tournament, just missed qualifying.

Houston turned in a time of 15:26, good for ninth place, but just nine seconds shy of qualifying individually for the state meet.

As a team, South finished 10th among the 15 teams entered.

The final results showed that of the eight runners who finished ahead of Houston, five would go as individuals, and three as members of qualifying teams.

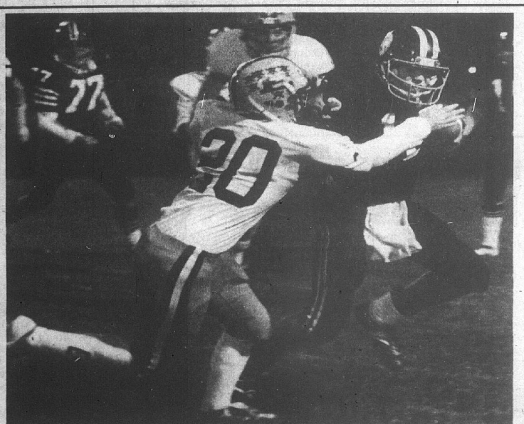

To qualify, Houston would have had to finish better than Leonard White of East St. Louis Lincoln, who turned in a sixth place time of 15:17.

The top five teams qualify, as well as the top five individuals, who are not members of those teams.

Centralia won the meet with 71 points. Maton was second with 103. South had 246 points.

After Houston, South's next best finisher was Jeff Taylor, whose 16:46 gave him the third place finish. Steve Dumont was next best with a 17:11 for 66th place.

There were a total of 117 runners participating.

NORTH'S TIM DUDLEY (right) tries to get away from an Edwardsville defender as he picks up yardage Friday night in his team's season-ending loss to the Tigers.

By KEVIN ALLEN

of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — The "season that might have been" ended sourly for Granite City North's football Steelers here Friday night with a 10-0 Gateway East Conference loss to the Edwardsville Tigers.

It was a season of marked improvement from the 0-10 finish of last year. North finished 4-5. Still, with the fast start of '79 there was that brief time when folks dared to think maybe the turnaround was to be complete.

All that came to a quick end, though. The Steelers completed the season with three consecutive losses, capped by the season-ending disappointment Friday.

"We came within one or two plays in a lotta' games this season,"

North head coach Tom Wyrostek said. "You never can tell, though, those one or two plays usually make a lotta' difference."

Saturday was a good example of what Wyrostek was talking about. The game was one of those classic defensive battles.

Neither North nor Edwardsville showed any great ability to move the ball with any consistency. In the first half, a total of four first downs were gained, two by North and two by Edwardsville.

Like most games where the most reliable offensive threat on the field is the punter, this one was destined to come down to those "one or two plays." The first of those came on the opening kick-off of the second half. The Steelers kicked to Edwardsville to begin the half. The kick sent the Tigers' Steve Hoskins back to his own 10-yard line.

But Hoskins reversed his backpeddling and shot upfield, breaking a tackle at midline, faking his way around another at the 35, until he was finally brought down at North's 22-yard line.

In three plays, North held the Tigers shy of a first down, bringing on the Edwardsville field goal unit with 9:44 left in the third quarter.

Tiger sophomore Kevin Mosby sent a 35-yard field goal through the goal posts, giving the Tigers a 3-0 lead.

The second of those difference-making plays came less than a quarter later. This time it was in the form of an interception.

The North defense had just completed a fourth-and-three stand against the Tigers on the North 13-yard line. The Steelers got possession of the ball on the 13.

The ensuing drive carried the Steelers near midfield, but it ended when Steeler quarterback Danny Patterson's pass was intercepted by Brad Opel at the 48-yard line. It was Opel's second interception of the game.

It took the Tigers just one play following the interception to run the score to 6-0. Once again, it was — surprise — Mosby responsible.

The place kicker-end Mosby caught Bryan Hammonds' pass at the 20-yard line, and raced in from there for the touch down.

The extra point by — surprise again — Mosby, made it 10-0.

"Have you ever seen a tougher secondary than that?" Dick Ford, Tiger head coach asked after the game. "They've had their trouble earlier but they came through tonight."

The Steelers secondary though, looked equally as tough, the difference came in the span of two plays.

Despite the win, Edwardsville still missed the championship of the Gateway East Conference — but just barely.

The Tigers came with in a single point of Althoff who finished on top of the conference.

The loss gave the Steelers a 4-5 finish for the season.

Madison loses finale

FREEBURG — The Madison High football team closed out a winless season here Saturday, falling to the Quad County Conference foe Freeburg 57-0.

Madison finishes the season with an 0-6 overall record and an 0-5 conference mark. Freeburg finishes 4-4 and 3-2.

Freeburg jumped out to a 6-0 lead at the end of the first quarter and added 26 points in the second. Running back Bill Hatfield scored three touchdowns for Freeburg on runs of 37, 35 and 19 yards. He finished with 148 yards on 11 carries.

Demund Parker led Madison's rushers with 22 yards.

Elsewhere over the weekend, area teams decided two state playoff spots with a pair of games between unbeaten squads. Friday, East St. Louis eked out an 8-7 victory over Duplo for the Quad County Conference championship and an automatic berth in the Class 2A playoffs.

Saturday, powerful Mascoutah remained unbeaten with a 39-15 whipping of Mississippi Valley foe (and previously unbeaten) Highland at home. The victory gave Mascoutah a berth in the Class 3A playoffs.

Alton Marquette defeated Orchard Farm, Mo. Friday night to finish 8-1 and earn an at-large berth in the 3A playoffs.

The first round of the playoffs will be held Wednesday (Nov. 7) at sites around the state.

FOUR HANDS are better than two — at least in volleyball. Mere, Granite North's Tammy Hanfelder (right) and teammate Brenda Dix both appear to have had a hand in setting the ball in a recent Steelerettes match.

Madison spikers tourney consolation champions

TROY — The Madison girls volleyball team took another great stride here Saturday when it won the consolation championship of the Triad High School Invitational Tournament. The Lady Trojans defeated host Triad for the honor. Staupston won the team championship when it beat Wood River in the title game. Broese Central defeated Highland for third place.

Thursday at Granite City North, Madison stunned the host Steelerettes in two straight, winning 20-13 and 20-3. In the first game, North had an 8-3 lead, only to see Madison come back to win. North also had a brief lead in the second game at 2-0 before Madison reeled off 16 unanswered points.

With the win, Madison raised its dual record to 12-5. North fell to 4-9. In junior varsity action, the Steelerettes defeated Madison in three games.

North's next match will be Tuesday at home against Roxana (6-30 p.m.). Madison will face East St. Louis Lincoln today (Monday) on the road, also at 6:30.

season. It played a game that left opponents frustrated. South put 23 shots on the Redbird goal, while Alton managed only four. The win also avenged an early-season loss at Alton (2-1).

South was relaxed, with the purpose of the tournament already accomplished, yet retained a sharp competitive edge on the field.

The Redbirds had a foreshadowing of what was in store not six minutes into the game. Already mounting a surge after surge, the Warriors brought the ball down into the Redbird end of the field once again.

Tim Powderly was attempting to move around the corner of the Alton defense into position for a shot, when his legs were cut from under him by tackling Redbird.

South was awarded a penalty kick for the Alton infraction, and Burnette stepped up to where the ball rested just in front of Redbird goalie Pete Sasik.

Alton goal. The ball struck Sasik's hands, but the force behind it carried it on the carom into the net. It was as if Sasik reacted from reflex putting up his hands as protection. At the half it was South, 2-0.

defense and David Fernandez left the request unfinished.

With just over a minute left to play in the half, Fernandez led a Warrior attack into the Redbird territory followed by a pack of Warrior forwards and Alton defenders.

From thirty yards out, Fernandez let loose a ringing shot that sliced toward the Alton goal. The ball struck Sasik's hands, but the force behind it carried it on the carom into the net. It was as if Sasik reacted from reflex putting up his hands as protection. At the half it was South, 2-0.

Fernandez scored again early in the fourth period what turned out to be South's final goal.

Fernandez found the goal with his shot from ten yards out.

"We played well," Baker said. "We lost to Alton early in the season, so we had something to make up for. We wanted to keep the momentum going into the state tournament."

The Warriors did all that with an all-or-nothing approach. Their fans sat back and enjoyed, for 80 minutes, for a season, waiting for the moment.

South cruises past Quincy

By PETE HAYES

GRANITE CITY — Quincy coach Dick Stewart hung his head in dismay. Coming into the game, he had known the odds, but his squad's fired-up. He had been optimistic. But now his team's playoff hopes were all but doomed. "They're so quick," he said. "Add that to their skills, and we couldn't stay with them."

The subject was the Granite City South soccer team which defeated Stewart's Quincy team 4-1 here Thursday in the second round of the Granite North Round-Robin Sectional. The win, combined with Collinsville's later tie with Alton, assured South of yet another trip to the state finals. With a 2-0 round-robin record, there was no way South could keep from making it to the finals, since it had earlier beaten Collinsville. Quincy had earlier beaten Alton. Going into the tourney, the crossing pass from the left side in front of the Quincy goal. Blue Devils Scott Easley deflected the ball into his own goal. It came at the 12:37 mark of the first quarter.

Beljanski scored from 30 feet out in the second quarter after taking a pass from teammate Greg White to make it a 2-0 South. David Fernandez erased all doubt of the outcome at 70:33 in the fourth quarter with a blistering 45-footer.

Kahoks finish with whimper

GRANITE CITY — Besides the strong play of Granite City South in last week's Granite North Round-Robin Sectional, the biggest surprise was the way the Collinsville Kahok kickers closed out their season — with hardly more than a whimper. Going into the tourney, the Kahoks were considered by many the odds-on favorite to take the title because of their overtime sub-sectional win over Granite North. But after losing to South 5-0 Tuesday in the first round, Collinsville tied Alton 1-1 Thursday and was trounced by Quincy 3-1 Saturday. Collinsville finished the tournament with an 0-2-1 record after going 18-5-1 in the regular season.

North kickers play today

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City North soccer team will close out its 1979 season here today (Monday) with a 4 p.m. home clash with Gateway East Conference foe Cahokia.

The game is a make-up of one that was postponed because of teacher's negotiations in the Granite City School District. The game is critical for North. With a win or tie, North's Steelerettes will claim the championship outright. If Cahokia should upset North, the Steelerettes would have to share the title with Granite City South.

Mitchell sign-ups

MITCHELL — Basketball registration for the Mitchell Athletic Club's league will be today (Monday) and Tuesday, Nov. 6 at the Mitchell Grade School gym. Times of the registration will be from 6 until 8 p.m. The league is for boys and girls grade 3 through 6. Registration fee is $5. Those wanting more information may call Myron Merz at 931-1218.

'Root for GRANITE CITY'

Dear Sports Editor,
An open letter to the people of Granite City:

I hope the message I am about to give the parents of all Granite City high school students is well understood.

It is a privilege for a young person to be a varsity athlete in high school. In 1970, I was a member of the Granite City High School cross country team that qualified for the state tournament — for that I am proud. But high school athletes must accept victory as well as defeat. Most of the athletes do. Many of the parents and students do not. Although Granite City North is not going to the state soccer tournament this year, remember this: Granite South has five losses on its record and North was responsible for one of them. If South should happen to win the state tourney, we should root for them and be proud of our high school athletes who represent Granite City, whether they come from North or South.

It is an honor to be in the state tournament, let alone win it three times.

North students have a right to be proud of their team. There are many soccer teams in Illinois that would love to be able to say they had defeated South.

But let's stand up and cheer for a victory in Palatine for GRANITE CITY.

GC swimmers do well in St. Charles meet

ST. CHARLES — Several swimmers from the Granite City area are traveling to St. Louis County six days a week to attend two-hour training workouts at Sugar Creek Swim Club, one of the area's top AAU (Amateur Athletic Union) facilities.

Jeff Watson, head coach at Sugar Creek, states that the aim of his swim program is to produce highly motivated and dedicated swimmers who will be prepared both physically and mentally to achieve national championships and college scholarships.

The Granite City-Sugar Creek group placed well in their first competition of the season last weekend at the two-day, 44-team Missouri Dolphin Meet in St. Charles.

In the 9-10 boys' division, John Amisch was the champion of the 50-yard backstroke with a time of 38.49 seconds, won the 50-yard freestyle in 32.71 seconds, and took third place in the 50-yard butterfly in a time of 38.85 seconds.

Cindi Stroheide was the winner of four races in the 13-14 girls division. She won the 100-yard breaststroke in a time of 1:21.9, took the 200-yard individual medley in 2:42.2, won the 100-yard backstroke in a time of 1:14.3, and took the 100-yard freestyle in 1:08.2.

DeeDee Darnell gave Sugar Creek another first place win as champion in the 13-14 girls 100-yard freestyle with a time of 1:04. She also took a second place in the 200-yard individual medley in 2:47.

Haughey leads bowlers

EDWARDSVILLE — After two weeks of the season, the men's bowling team at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is in first place in the Gateway Interscholastic Bowling Conference.

In their second year of competition, the men's team is led by Larry Haughey of Granite City with a 200 average. The Cougars are 9-2 in league play.

SIU's women's team, meanwhile, in just its first year of competition, is currently in second place in the women's division of the same league, sporting a 3-1 record.

Kim Fisher leads the women with a 178 average. She's from Litchfield. The teams will compete with teams from University of Missouri-St. Louis, Southeast Missouri State, University of Missouri-Rolla, St. Louis University and Florissant Valley Community College on Saturdays through February.

Foster Schleider, coach of the SIUE teams, guided the men to a first place in the conference last season.

Everything's roses for Baker

BLOOMINGTON — Everything's coming up roses for Illinois State University's cross country team these days.

A state championship and national ranking are the big prizes so far for the Redbirds, who go after another achievement this Saturday in the Central Collegiate Conference at Ann Arbor, Mich.

"Things are exactly the way we had hoped they would go at the beginning of the season," says third year coach John Coughlan. "Everything is going just perfect for us."

The Redbirds are undefeated in seven dual meets and ranked 17th nationally. They placed second to national power Auburn in the 53-team Notre Dame Invitational. Last week they won the Illinois Intercollegiate championship for the first time.

"We ran awfully well, but conditions kept from being better," Coughlan said. "Our sheer talent helped us tremendously." The Redbirds were running in wind that gusts to 40 miles per hour.

The two-point ISU victory over Illinois for first place might have been more decisive but for the spiking of Redbird Chris Kuntz of Villa Park (Willowbrook). Kuntz was in the middle of a pack when he was spiked in an ankle, and a shoe fell off his foot.

Kuntz ran the final four and one-half miles with one shoe. But when he finished, blood was gushing from the ankle. It took 22 stitches to close the wound. He placed 41st.

"Chris told me after the race that he just wanted to help the team," Coughlan said. "I think that kind of personifies the whole team."

Senior Dave Irion of Normal paced the ISU victory by placing fourth in 25 minutes, 24 seconds for the five-mile event. Other ISU counters were Mike Baker of Granite City (North), sixth; Herman Sahneyah of Tuba City, Ariz., seventh; Mike Matteson of Aurora (West), 15th, and Jim Galen of Dolton (Thorndridge), 21st.

Coughlan is hopeful that ISU can place in the top four at the Central Collegiate meet, which would be quite an achievement. "We are just one of a few prominent teams in this meet," he points out.

Penn State, currently ranked sixth in the nation, is entered. Michigan, Wisconsin, Western Michigan and Toledo are other formidable teams the Redbirds will face.

BAKER AND FRIENDS. Former Granite City North cross country star Mike Baker is one of the reasons the Illinois State University harriers have won the Illinois championship and are regarded as one of the top teams in the

Schoolfield among Cougar returnees

EDWARDSVILLE — A new coach, a new season and a new stress on defense—that's the warning issued by the women's basketball team at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Wendy Hedberg, who succeeds Lori Stark as head coach of the women Cougars, believes in strong defensive play.

"You can use the same philosophy toward offense as you can toward defense," said Hedberg. "If you're a strong defensive team, you're bound to be a pretty strong offensive team, too," she maintains.

SIU has six players returning from last year's squad, which compiled a 7-12 record. They are: Lovia Allen, a 5'-10" senior center from St. Louis; Julie Beagle, a 5'-5" sophomore guard from Edwardsville; Wagon Chapman, a 5'-2" sophomore guard from Granite City; Denise Schaeke, a 6-foot sophomore center-forward from Edwardsville; and Kim Wheeler, a 5'-11" senior center from Bethalto.

Hedberg is looking forward to the addition of three newcomers on the 1979-80 Cougar team.

Illinois Power to aid customers in mangaging wintertime utility bills

Illinois Power Company has begun a program entitled Project HELP to help customers make winter utility bills more manageable.

C. E. Mathias, service area manager for Illinois Power said "the primary objective of Project HELP is to assist customers who find it difficult to pay increased winter energy costs."

The company will aid customers in contacting local agencies that provide federal funds for energy expenses as the funds become available. Representatives of those agencies will have the opportunity to locate in Illinois Power offices.

"This on-the-spot availability should enable agencies to more quickly connect customers with financial resources," Mathias said.

Project HELP also includes deferred payment plans, extended office hours, and evening appointments to assist customers experiencing difficulty, Mathias said.

"These measures should help to make clear our position that we do not want to shut off anyone's service," Mathias said.

Illinois Power has long had credit policies and practices to help customers who encounter problems paying bills.

The project was developed in response to increasing costs of fuel and past severe winters.

It began Oct. 15 and will extend to Nov. 16. The plan includes.

—Extended office hours until 6 p.m. by appointment Monday through Friday.

—Special office hours by appointment from 8 a.m. through 1 p.m. on Saturday.

—Inserts with final bill notices explaining HELP services.

—Increased announcements encouraging customers to make special payment arrangements.

The local Illinois Power Co. customer service center is at Niedringhaus and Delmar avenues in Granite City. Inquiries about Project HELP may be made by calling 876-1280.

2 are hurt near tavern

Steve McCoy, 18, of Rural Route Two, Box 844, Granite City, suffered a stab wound to his left hip and Rocky Hannah, 27, of 2208 Lee Ave., suffered a cut to his forehead during a disturbance in front of the Wayside Tavern, 2160 Washington Ave., at 2:25 a.m. Friday.

Police were called to a report of a fight and said they found Hannah sitting on the sidewalk bleeding from his mouth and head. Inside, they found McCoy with a stab wound to his leg.

Both were taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where McCoy was admitted and Hannah was released to police.

Hannah was charged Sunday with aggravated battery.

Disagrees in audit issue

Steve Wilfong, a certified public accountant, told the Press-Record this week that he disagrees with statements made about him by Trustee Duane Skinner of Pontoon Beach, in an Oct. 25 article which disclosed that the village has not had its financial books audited since the fiscal year which ended April 30, 1977.

Skinner contended he asked Wilfong in October or November of last year to do the audit and Wilfong told him he was leaving the Traggesser & Associates firm of Belleville, but would do the audit for the village if it would wait until he established his new office.

Wilfong disagreed, saying his decision to leave Traggesser was made as the result of an account which was not received by Traggesser until December of 1978 and he left in January. "There is no truth in his statement which said that in October or November of 1978, I was planning to leave Traggesser. I told Skinner, in front of witnesses that I did not want to do the audit (for the 1977-78 fiscal year)." "I continuously told him I would not do the work unless you get in a bind," Wilfong said.

He noted that prior to leaving Traggesser, he was unable to audit the books because Skinner did not bring him the proper records. "From April to October of 1978, I tried to get the records from him for the 1977-78 fiscal year. After that, there was no contact, because the audit report was past due after the end of October," the auditor reported.

He also noted there was at least two newspaper articles in October of 1978 in which Skinner is quoted as telling the board of trustees that Traggesser was in the process of preparing the 1977-78 fiscal year audit.

"Some trustees also have told me he led them to believe the FY 78 report was completed and a lot of work had been done on the 1978-79 audit," Wilfong contended.

When Skinner was questioned by the Press-Record on why the audit for the 1977-78 fiscal year was not on file with the Illinois State Comptroller's office or the county clerk's office, he blamed Wilfong, saying Wilfong had always led him to believe he would do the audits for the village, until recently.

Since the Oct. 25 article appeared, Skinner has said he feels the article was an example of "sensationalism," and said

Traggesser is a very reputable firm, which does many municipal audits, and he feels the firm was a good choice when he hired it. He said he did not continue to use C.J. Schlosser & Co., which had done the previous village audits, since he was employed by Schlosser at the time as an accountant, which disqualified them from working for the village board.

Groomsmen were Rick Doty, a brother of the groom, Michael Hubert and Jim Schmiegel. Ushers were Raymond, Jackson and Joseph Nelson, brothers of the bride. "Coffee concerts," an annual tradition at the university, are held in a relaxed night-club setting. Dessert and a "bottomless cup of coffee" are served during intermission. The first concert will feature music by "the most exciting composers from the 18th, 19th and 20th centuries," according to David Huntley, director of the Office of Cultural Arts and University Museums.

Sections will include Mendelssohn's "String Quartet in A Minor, Opus 13," Barber's "Dover Beach, Opus 3," and Mozart's "Quintet in E-flat Major, K. V. 452."

The annual convention featured sectional meetings in such areas as rhetoric, interpersonal communication, public address, small group communication, oral interpretation, play production, creative dramatics, theater, film, radio and television, forensics and debate, listening, and career communication.

Workshop on assertiveness

An assertiveness workshop to strengthen self-confidence and increase effective personal or organizational communication will be offered Nov. 13-14 in St. Louis by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The workshop, part of the Center for Management Studies community service program, is for people who feel uncomfortable or hesitant in speaking up, who lose out through "overkill," or who need further refinement in communication techniques.

Shelia Ruth, an associate professor of philosophical studies at SIUE with experience as an affirmative action, equal opportunity and assertiveness training lecturer in government, industry and private organizations, will direct the program as a practical learning experience. Students will learn to set goals, listen, respond and relax before making a final evaluation.

Sessions will meet from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. daily in the Henry VIII Inn and Lodge, 4600 N. Lindbergh. Registration fee, including coffee, luncheon and all meeting materials, is $195.

The Center for Management Studies at SIUE also offers optional in-house training programs and professional consultant services for individual organizations.

SERGEANT OTTO JUNIOR. Second Grader Brian Lybarger won costume judging among second graders at Harris School in Madison. He dressed like the Madison Police Department's "Sgt. Otto-the Safety Bug." The "Sgt. Otto" auto is used by the department to teach elementary children recommended safety habits.

Christmas Ideas Festival

The Granite City Park District will have its second annual "Christmas Ideas Festival" on Saturday, Nov. 17, at the Nameoki Recreation Center, Amos and Franklin avenues. The hours will be from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. and admission is free.

This is a craft show designed to display and sell crafts, gifts, decorations and other ideas with the emphasis on Christmas. All items will be handcrafted originals.

Forty craftsmen and artists from the entire metropolitan area will be displaying their "wares."

Applications have been received from as far away as Shipman, Ill., DeSoto and Wright City, Mo. as well as many from the Granite City area and St. Louis County.

This show proved to be one of the most successful ventures the Park District made last year as attendance was well over what was anticipated, an official said. All tables have been filled since early September, and there has been no need to advertise for craftsmen, the spokesman added.

Some of the items to be displayed are wooden toys and rocking chairs, dollhouse furniture, baby quilts, bibs and pillows, items in porcelain and ceramic, wheel weaving, handmade candles, picture frames, leather goods, nativity sets, tree skirts, potpourri, pine cone projects, dried and silk flowers, oil paintings, tin-craft.

Also padded shutters, crewel, needlepoint, macrame and decoupage items; pressed flower pictures and hundreds of other things. There will be many variations of Christmas tree ornaments and calico projects for the holidays.

Linda Butler was ticketed for driving while intoxicated. She and a passenger, Betty Holbrook, 20, also of 945 Niedringhaus Ave., were taken by a Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where they were released after treatment.

The driver suffered pain to her right shoulder and the passenger hurt the back of her head and her left leg.

Mail service delays called to attention of top officials

A letter from a reader takes us to task for failing to report and comment on setbacks in local postal services. We plead innocent because the Press-Record has carried timely and highly-visible articles as well as editorial commentary on the 1979 downward revisions in the quality of mail delivery.

There are many conscientious members of the Granite City Post Office staff, and our quarrel is not with them. But we, like the first reader referred to, are frustrated over mail delays, particularly those stemming from a new practice of sending Granite City-to-Granite City mail by way of St. Louis. The latter cannot help but slow up letters as well as costing Uncle Sam needless dollars and gasoline.

A second reader, who shares our concern, is Ernest Rouland. He quoted us in a letter he sent to Congressman Melvin Price Sept. 7. The legislator advised him Sept. 17 that contact was being made with the office of the postmaster general.

Cong. Price followed this up with an Oct. 24 letter in which he told Mr. Rouland that the postmaster general staff had responded.

It was related that "Mr. Coverden has asked the Gateway district manager to look into the feasibility of retaining in Granite City the mail which is destined for Granite City delivery."

"In addition, he indicates that under the present system the mail which is deposited at the main post office prior to 6:15 p.m. will be delivered in Granite City the next day. I will let you know when I receive additional correspondence regarding this matter," Cong. Price concluded.

Later-in-the-day sorting, reduced neighborhood pickups and other problems are continuing. But it is nice to learn through the congressman that somebody at the Postal Service in Washington is aware of local residents' unhappiness with some of the mail "improvements" occurring here this summer and fall.

Strange things have been happening, and ought to be changed.

When a permanent postmaster is appointed, many Granite Cityans undoubtedly will make him aware of their viewpoints.

Bulk grain terminal dedication another Port milestone

Tomorrow will bring another milestone in Tri-City Regional Port District history when dedication ceremonies are held for the new bulk grain transfer terminal constructed at the Port.

The public is being encouraged to attend the 2 p.m. program, and appropriately so. Citizens, through the local district, the state and other governmental agencies, have played a big role in developing this and other shipping, storage and transfer facilities at the Tri-City Port.

The happy occasion does not bring with it a "green light" for construction related to the Foreign Trade Zone. With interest rates at stratospheric levels, arrangements have not yet been worked out for sale of bonds to finance the FTZ building, and more time will be sought for use of a related federal grant.

GC Steel honored for state clean air implementation

Granite City Steel was singled out for special honors Thursday night at the seventh annual meeting of the Southwestern Illinois Industrial Association. Fellow members recognized its strong leadership role in developing an Illinois state implementation plan for the federal Clean Air Act and amendments.

The achievement award saluted the local National Steel Corporation division and the constructive work of its skilled environmental improvement department.

The award came as a surprise to the presiding officer, Thomas J. Chanman is Donald F. Cairns, the Granite City Steel vice-president who oversees the division's environment-related programs.

SIIA executive director is Robert J. Walters, and directors include William P. Donovan, American Steel Foundries, Paul H. Kelly, A. O. Smith Corporation, Denis L. Feron, Chemetco, and David E. Partney, Granite Sheet Metal Works.

Among the board members are Steve Roach, Alcoa Industrial Gases; Ed Anderson, Bulk Service Corp.; Fred Francis, Hyman-Michaels Co.; Elwin T. Walker, Illinois Terminal Railroad; Gus Carver Jr., Jenson-Wright Corp.; Jon R. Walker, L. B. Smith Co.; Deane F. Bahendroff, Luria Brothers & Co.; Al Zamarone, Nesco Steel Barrel Co.; and Roger Higgins, Nestle Co., Inc.

Those who disagree are attacked

To the Editor:

After reading the letter to the editor from Charles Douglas in the Oct. 29 Press-Record, I think that it is time someone publicly supports Mr. Douglas for standing up to Mayor Schuler.

Regardless of whether you agree with Mr. Douglas, Mr. Schuler's comments were uncalled for. I believe that a public explanation by Mayor Schuler should be demanded by the people of Granite City. I, for one, am tired of Mayor Schuler's constant attacking of anyone who doesn't agree with him.

I would like to remind the mayor that the people of Granite City obviously had given questions concerning his abilities as mayor when they barely voted to re-elect him over Daniel Partney. In view of his recent conduct, I can't believe that we, the people, will make the same mistake twice.

I hope that by writing this letter I won't suddenly find myself on the "mayor's list."

Stolen van used in robbery

A van stolen from the Granite City Steel blast furnace parking lot on Edwardsville Road early Friday was used in East St. Louis for an armed robbery, kidnapping, rape and aggravated battery, Granite City police have been informed.

The van of Albert Castillo, Washington Park, was stolen between 11:30 p.m. Thursday and 3 a.m. Friday and a car stolen from Frederick Talley, East St. Louis, was abandoned on the lot.

There also was an unsuccessful attempt to steal the van of Donald Click, 1101 rear Reynolds St., Madison, as the wing window was broken and the ignition lock was damaged. An $80 CB radio and a $20 vacuum cleaner were taken from Click's van.

At 4 a.m. Saturday, East St. Louis police notified officers here that they had chased the van which had been stolen from Castillo and caught it. They said it had been used in the armed robbery, kidnapping, rape and aggravated battery, and Granite City detectives could obtain more information the following morning.

However, investigators said they have been unable to obtain additional information from East St. Louis police. An East St. Louis officer, who told the Press-Record he was "very familiar" with the case said he was "too busy" to discuss it this morning. He said he did not know if there had been any arrests.

VANDALISM TO VEHICLE

Georgia Falwell, St. Louis, who works at the Venice schools, reported to Venice police at 7:37 a.m. today that vandals had scratched the paint on the trunk of her automobile. She told police she believes the vandalism was done between 8 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 25.

House damaged in accident

Charles Rollins, 4276 Highway 102, was charged with improper passing after he car and the auto of Pearl Barnfield, 3513 Johnson Road, collided in the 3500 block of Johnson Road at 7:05 p.m. Sunday.

After collision, Rollins' auto left the roadway, struck a utility pole and continued into the house of Bernard Schutzenhofer, 3517 Johnson Road, damaging the foundation, a wall and the floor joist, according to official reports.

The utility pole Rollins' auto struck fell on top of Schutzenhofer's pickup truck in front of his house, police reported.

Two young girls in Mrs. Barnfield's auto suffered minor injuries and were taken by a Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where they were released after treatment. They were Penelope Barnfield, 10, and Page Barnfield, both of 3513 Johnson Road.

AUTO IS STOLEN

The white over blue 1972 Oldsmobile of Mark Wingerter, 2512 W. 24th St., was stolen from 21st Street and Washington Avenue, it was discovered at 9 p.m. Thursday.

HALLOWEEN PARADE, sponsored by the Venice High School Student Council, proceeds along Broadway today. Students in the kindergarten through fifth grade, dressed in brightly-colored costumes, many homemade, were

Madison middle school Urban action grant forum ready after holidays

Classes in the new middle school will start sometime the first week in January, according to a board spokesman. The opening of the school and contractor delays were a major portion of the discussion at the Thursday evening board meeting.

One board member said a list of items has been drawn up by the main contractor

Leo Wolf. However there are no penalties set for any of the sub-contractors. The board member challenged the effectiveness of such a list. Everything but the gym is scheduled to be finished by Nov. 30, according to Wolf, but the board felt it not advisable to move in until everything is finished and inspected.

Juvenile arrested

A 14-year-old Granite City boy was charged with possessing cannabis and a controlled substance and with criminal trespass to a motor vehicle after police saw him seated in a station wagon at State Street and Fehling Road Thursday.

The boy was acting suspiciously, officers asked him to get out of the car and checked the vehicle, allegedly finding two marijuana cigarettes and some pills wrapped in aluminum foil under the front seat. The owner of the car said the boy did not have permission to be in it.

THEFT FROM SAFE

A total of $3,850 worth of cash and checks was stolen from the safe at Happy Joe's pizza, 3675 Nameoki Road, between 12:45 and 1:35 a.m. Sunday. The regional manager said the money was in two bank bags in an open safe in the office. Numerous persons had access to the office during the early morning hours. Police are questioning everyone who could have been in the office, including customers who were in the restaurant and have been identified with the case. It was emphasized that such large amounts of money are not normally kept in the restaurant.

MAN IS BEATEN

Roger Matys, 25, of 2125 Delmar Ave., was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 1:20 a.m. Sunday, where he was taken by a Granite City ambulance from his home after he was beaten with a fist several times on his head and was knocked unconscious for a period.

WOMAN THREATENED

Judy Scott, 7 Roxbury Court, told police a woman with short bleached hair stopped her car in front of Mrs. Scott's residence last week. The woman held a knife and threatened Mrs. Scott. The woman then drove away, striking the parked car of Ernest Volle, Collinsville, then continuing west on Revere's Route.

WRONG ADDRESS

Edward Crowell Jr., 27, who has been sentenced to serve two years of prison after pleading guilty to theft of a firearm and unlawful use of a weapon, has never resided in the Parkview West Mobile Home Park, as reported previously, the manager there said this week.

Urban action grant forum

The Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs will present an informational workshop for local-level governments on the federal Urban Development Action Grant (UDAG) program Friday, Nov. 9, at the Department of Transportation auditorium in Springfield.

Purpose of the workshop is to inform eligible communities about the federal program, including its purpose; how it can create jobs in a community; how to plan and coordinate a UDAG project; and how to apply for funds.

The Urban Development Action Grant program administered by the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) is designed to alleviate physical and economic deterioration.

Communities are awarded grants to assist in restoring deteriorated neighborhoods, reclaiming underutilized property for industrial purposes, and renewing commercial employment centers such as central business districts.

Project grants, which must be matched with private money, have been used in the past to fund industrial, commercial, and residential development through such activities as: Purchase, construction or rehabilitation of public, commercial or industrial facilities.

Acquisition and rehabilitation of housing. Approximately 500 Illinois communities meet HUD's standards of physical and economic deterioration levels of poverty, unemployment, deteriorating housing and declining tax base and have been identified that they may qualify to compete for the grants.

The workshop will run from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Department of Transportation auditorium, 2300 S. Dirksen Parkway. There is no registration fee.

Communities which do not know if they are eligible for UDAG funds may contact Don Falls or Lynn Burger in the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs at (217) 782-7564.

News notes

The Environmental Protection Agency said Friday it will check for possible toxic materials in the Barton landfill near Madison, the Granite City acetylene plant, the Granite City municipal dump, the Milan No. 1 site and other Illinois chemical waste sites that U. S. House Commerce Committee investigation subcommittee says could contain hazardous wastes.

Illinois EPA officials say that an even bigger problem might be chemicals placed before 1970 in now-abandoned dumping areas. They said the new list mentions sites authorized for special wastes, and that prior to the inspection there is no reason to assume dangerous conditions exist.

Six Granite Cityans will perform with the SUE Symphony Orchestra at 8:15 p.m. Friday in the Communications Building theater, presenting selections from Beethoven, Mussorgsky and Hovannes. They are: Linda Beane and Michael D. Kelley, violas; Becky McCommis, bassoon; Beth Potillo, flute; Robin Robertson, bassoon and contrabassoon; and Karen Schneider, clarinet and percussion.

An unidentified man was found to death on Saturday near an I-70, Ill. 143 ramp at Highland.

Free state ID cards are available to all physically handicapped persons.

A music festival at SUE Saturday will attract more than 1,000 students and teachers from Illinois high schools and junior high schools.

Seventeen, SUE vocal music students planning to enter regional competition Friday and Saturday in Columbia, Mo., will sing some of their selections in a public dress rehearsal at 6:30 tonight at the university's Religious Center.

The state ended October with $550 million available, the fourth straight month that the balance has topped the half-billion mark.

Due to lack of funding, the Madison County Historical Museum, 715 S. Main St., Edwardsville, will be closed this week and next week. It will reopen on Sunday, Nov. 18.

Illinois unemployment fell to 5.7 percent in October from 6.1 percent in September. But nationally, the jobless ranks rose to 6.6 percent from 5.8.

Gov. James H. Thompson on Friday ordered that the state's 10,000-vehicle motor pool convert from gasoline to diesel fuel within a year.

Speaking Saturday in Alton, Margaret Costanza, former assistant to Pres. Jimmy Carter, assailed the new Illinois General Assembly vote tightening abortion restrictions. She said that both abortions and equal rights have become needlessly controversial.

Beaten on front porch

Richard Fleetwood, 21, of 1647 Olive St., suffered cuts to his lips and a bruise to his right eye during a disturbance on the front porch of his apartment building at 12:10 a.m. Sunday. He told police he heard a fight on the front porch and stepped onto the porch light on and over several times, hoping to stop the fight. When that failed, he went outside, where one man jumped on him and beat him with his fists, he reported.

Larry D. Turner, 25, of 1810 Sken St., Madison, was allegedly found hiding in the closet of another apartment at that address and was arrested. He was charged with battery and two active traffic warrants were served on him alleging unlicensed driving and driving on a suspended driver's license. Fleetwood was taken by a Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 1 a.m. Sunday, where he was treated and released.

In Memoriam 33

In loving memory of LISA GIFFORD who passed away November 2, 1975. Though her smile is gone forever, and her hands we cannot touch, Thank God for precious memories of the one we loved so much.

IN LOVING memory of RAYMOND F. DUKE who passed away Nov. 3, 1978. Today recalls and memories of a loved one gone to rest, those who think of you today are the ones who loved you best. What we would give to see you smile, today sit with us and talk awhile. The blow was sudden the shock was severe, to part with one we loved so dear. We often sit and think of you, things you used to say and do, we wonder why you had to die without a chance to say goodbye. Sadly missed by Wife, Children and all who loved him. 28 11 5

IN LOVING memory of HARRY R. WESTWOOD who left us one year ago Nov. 4, 1978. I am home in Heaven now; oh, so happy and so bright. There is perfect joy and beauty in this everlasting light. All the pain and grief is over, every restless tossing passed. I am now at peace forever, safely home in Heaven at last. Wife, Children and Grandchildren. 33 11 5

By RON CORNWELL
County Extension Adviser
There are a large number of homes in Madison County that have fireplaces.

Homeowners can obtain information on the best types of firewood for fireplaces from a publication entitled "Burning Wood." This is a sale publication available from Madison County Extension office.

Since satisfactory performance of the fireplace depends a lot on the type of wood used, here are some hints on selecting and storing firewood.

The best firewood is apple, beech, black locust, hedge, hickory, oak, pear and sugar maple.

Other woods that make a good fuel are ash, black cherry, elm, silver maple and walnut.

Basswood, catalpa, cottonwood and yellow poplar make only a fair source of fuel for fireplaces.

The publication also covers: fireplaces, stoves and furnaces.

PROFESSOR PAUL GUENTHER

Foreign language and literature can help in qualifying for a job

By M. S. STERN

If the educational rallying cry for the 1970s has been "Will it get me a job?" then humanities has been the first field to suffer.

But Professor Paul Guenther, chairman of the department of foreign languages and literature at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, considers his field to be eminently functional.

"There is almost no career today in which a basic language would not be an asset," he asserted.

"In some fields it's becoming a necessity."

"In industry, which is becoming increasingly multinational, there is a definite need for people who are bilingual or multilingual."

"Companies like Olin need people to translate documents and technical material for them, and their foreign engineers want to do engineering, not translation."

The SIUE department of foreign languages and literature has offered many courses geared to the professional use of languages in such fields as business, music, drama and the sciences, Guenther explained.

He added that many Americans have assumed foreigners would go out of their way to learn English—an assumption which he regards as arrogant.

"Now all countries are becoming more interdependent," he insisted. "A knowledge of Arabic wouldn't hurt when dealing with people who control much of the world's most prized commodity, oil."

"Half a billion people speak Spanish in our backyard," he added, referring to Spanish-speaking people in the United States and Latin America. "Therefore, Spanish would be helpful even if you were an ambulance attendant in Chicago."

He named other fields in which language training could be essential, including the teaching of English as a foreign language, or government employment in agencies such as the State Department or the Social Security Administration.

Guenther's department has placed many graduates in jobs in foreign countries as well.

He is enthusiastic about his faculty. "We have an excellent staff," he said. "They are first-rate pedagogues with terrific ideas and enormous experience in living and teaching at home and abroad."

Speaking fluent English with a thick German accent, Guenther left no doubt as to what language he teaches. He emigrated to the United States from Germany more than 30 years ago.

He warned against new pocket-size "translators" that are currently used by Americans when abroad. "Of course, if you press the translator button for 'what time is the train leaving for Frankfurt?' and then ask the ticket seller, he will probably reply, 'at 3:15' or 'at 4:00' or whatever. Then you can use the electronic translator to translate it back into English," he said.

"But what happens if he replies, 'The engineers are on a wildcat strike and there won't be any trains today?' You will have to stand there and stare at him."

The idea that American students are born with a dislike for foreign language is untrue, Guenther said. He thinks the decline in interest in language is connected to several factors.

"The acquisition of a language skill is relatively difficult," he said. "Coupled with this, the English of many students is in many cases deplorable."

"How can you expect people to learn a new language if they don't know their own very well? Even the better students are often afraid to take a language because they fear it will lower their grade point averages."

He said an overemphasis on vocational training and "relevance" may have led to an under-valuation of languages, which are often associated with the liberal arts.

The final reason is the view some Americans have that everyone should speak their language, and not the other way around, he said. Guenther plans to push for stiffer language requirements in most university curriculums.

"Although this might be a disadvantage to my department because we might be teaching more students with relatively less interest, it would be an advantage for the university because we would be providing a better education for the students," he said.

Parent-youth counseling unit formed in Venice

Council Against Parent-Youth Problems, a newly-organized group of residents of the Brooklyn-Venice area, met in the Venice Council Chambers last week.

Objective of the group is to provide "grass root" counseling to parents and youths who are having problems communicating, or who may need referrals to other agencies but feel uneasy asking "strangers" to help solve their problems.

As fellow members of the clients community, it is felt they (the parent and youth) may be more inclined to speak freely and "give us more insight into the actual problems between them," a member said.

The council director, Mrs. Ada Turner, employed through the Venice Senior Aides Program, has worked over 15 years with inmates at Mendota and feels one of the reasons for the ever-increasing penal institutions rolls are "Poor lines of communications" in the child's early years. She said, "We, as a part of that family's environment, must make an attempt to offer them assistance before the problem becomes a legal one and before that child reaches the juvenile home or Mendota."

The CAPYP meetings are scheduled for the first and third Wednesday of each month. The next meeting will be on Wednesday, Nov. 7 in the Venice Council Chambers at 6 p.m. Residents, agency directors and personnel, religious leaders and other civic groups who are interested and would like more information, or would like to participate, are invited to write Mrs. Turner of the Madison County Urban League Office, 500 Madison Avenue, Madison, or call her daily 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at 877-3096.
